FRIDAY, MAY 20, 1864.

THE PARAGUAY LETTER.

Sr. Berges' letter to Minister Elizalde has taken Buenos Ayres by surprise. Our colleagues can hardly find epithets strong enough to use towards the Paraguayan Minister, and threaten a reply from Mr. Elizalde which will annihilate M. Berges. In order that our readers may thoroughly understand the matter we translate and publish the document. The severity of M. Berges is mainly attributable to his ignoring the school of South American diplomacy and adopting the European.

M. Berges has the advantage of our minister on this respect, that he has travelled through Europe and the U. States and in the discharge of his duty as special envoy,has mixed with the leading diplomatists of those countries.

We cannot take on us to say how far correct the charges are which the Paraguayan Minister makes respecting the want of good faith, and contradictions manifested in M. Elizalde's notes, since we have not read them, but we opine that our minister would have attended more his own and his Government's interests in refraining from publishing M. Berges' note.

There is an open simplicity in the Paraguayan Minister's note which gains for him in the estimation of all unprejudiced people. He states his case plainly and without any awful superfluity of words, andseems right to the matter at issue.

The following is the Paraguay Minister's letter :—

In fine, the result of the notes of the Paraguayan Government, asking explanations from the Government of Argentina the public with respect to the Oriental Government has been a dead silence of ten weeks; and this delay is likely to cause difficulties, and interrupt pending negotiations.

Such unsatisfactory results cannot but render negotiations very difficult for this Government, which cannot do less than look with distrust upon the Argentine Government, which has delayed so long in giving the explanations which your Excellency in your note of 31st December, so expressly states would be forthcoming, and it is my painful duty to call your Excellency's attention to the total unfulfillment of your promises.

It is anything but pleasant for Government to reiterate the assertion, which is the ground of this present note, that some points in my note of 9th January are capable of causing difficulties, and interrupting pending negotiations.

And if this Government ought to be grateful for that of the Government of the public for the consideration which it has showed to my former notes, I can not help noticing the total absence of all explanations, so respectfully requested, and on that account the Paraguayan Government cannot rest satisfied with your note of 31st December.

Late events in the River Plate given a more salient significations to the position of the Argentine and Oriental Governments, which cannot but excite the serious attention of this country, impressed as it is with its futile endeavour to obtain explanations.

Your Excellency in your note of 31st December states that all conciliatory measures having failed, Government was looking for a just reparation, and afterwards you say that the two Governments had accepted the mediation of Mr. Thornton, her Britannic Majesty's Representative; a proof that all conciliatory measures had failed.

In my note of 21st December I stated that this Government had the conviction that the Argentine Government proposed, fortifying Martin Garcia, that she occupied the interior provinces had no other object, in my humble opinion, than to crush and that Paraguay trusted that nothing would be done to injure the balance of power in the River Plate.

In your note of the 31st of December you say that new complications had arisen between the Argentine and the Oriental Governments, which caused the former to take precautionary measures, but that they were by no means affected the friendly relationship which existed between your Government and Paraguay.

The explanation, I am sorry to say, does not in all and in most of my remarks, that the fortifying of Martin Garcia would in any way interfere with the navigation of the waters of the States of the River Plate. On the contrary, it appears to this Government that the Oriental Republic is hurt by the fortifications and vessels of war assembled at Martin Garcia, as they prevent the Oriental men of war from intercepting the supplies which are sent from Buenos Ayres to the Central Flores.

It is far from the intention of this Government to disturb the tranquility of the public the right to vindicate her honor, so long as the independence of the Oriental Republic is not endangered; but it should have preferred that some other steps had been taken,which might prove the moderation which your Excellency says has been shown in the differences with the Oriental Republic, and thus avoid giving any ground for the public to distrust you give protection to General Flores.

My Government, in asking explanations, only desired to preserve peace and friendship amongst the River Plate nations, and deeply regrets that the Argentine Government did not think fit to comply with your request, and is also painfully aware a state that it cannot recognise that moderation which might have arranged all disagreements.

Things being so situated, I am under the disagreeable necessity of stating that, in the absence of these friendly explanations which were requested, my Government, in future, must take its own view of such matters as may endanger the sovereignty and independence of the Oriental State, to which, we have always manifested open token, either for our own interests or for those of the River Plate.

I take this opportunity, &c.

JOSE BERGES.

THE BARRACAS MARKET

We cannot say that we are much surprised that Republican Governments, instigated, as they usually are by a false spirit of economy, should seek to huddle together attributes and duties which require alike dignity, talents, and long experience, for by so doing the unenvy is envied so much in the shape of salaries; but we are astonished that men who occupy good positions should ruin their reputation by accepting offices of such heterogeneous duties, that it is an absolute absurdity to suppose they can properly discharge the same.

The present person we have to deal with is Charles Tejedor, who, we believe, is a lawyer, was a minister, and, it is thought, has some aspirations at being an itinerant victualler.

There is a suburb of Buenos Ayres, called Barracas ; it is thickly populated, and is daily increasing in importance ; a scheme for building a suitable market-place has been sent into Government, the matter, of course, was taken into consideration to a person who knew nothing whatsoever about the wants and requirements of the people of Barracas. Now, if we remember aright, when M. Pastor Obligado was named railway inspector, he had the honesty to say that he would set to oblige the Government,but he knew nothing whatsoever about rail ways. This was candid of M. Obligado, and consequently saved him from any censure for the ill performance of his tasks ; but Mr. Tejedor lacked the discretion of Don Pastor, and when the Barracas market affair was referred to him, pocketed the matter at once, the people in Barracas were well enough as they are, and required no market. We cannot be astonished at the acquiescence of the utter incompetence of some of our public men, and to prove to our readers that the lame of this country is putting its shoulder to the wrong places. If Government had referred the market question to any resident in the parish, as Messrs. Fernandez, Suarez, Videla, or any other respectable resident of the place was consulted, we should have less room for complaint ; but the ill-fated atrocity of consulting a city lawyer, who lives in a marble-fronted house in Calle Bolivar, whose whole genius is saturated in politics—to ask this man whether the people in Barracas required a market or not, is so obvious a blunder, that we are astonished to call public attention to the matter.

Personally speaking, we know nothing whatsoever of M. Tejedor, as lawyer, for all we know, he as profound a lawyer as he is an unsuccessful politician, but the people in Barracas are indignant that he should make a matter of their rights, and lament that the price of their bootjacks are at the will of this disciple of Utility.

We, think that it would be judicious for this celebrated market lawyer to reconsider his 'fiat,' as we understand it is the intention of the free and enlightened inhabitants of Barracas, in case, through M. Tejedor's prejudice, they are deprived of a market to erect a range of decapitating boxes, jerked beef, &c., to the ante-posthumous memory of so distinguished a lawyer.

Candidly speaking, we cannot see why the Government should refer such a question to M. Tejedor, unless for the purpose of taxing the patience of the people of Barracas, or of throwing odium on a man who, we believe, has, after all, some claims on the public.

CONGRESS.

The Deputies are still under a cloud, but we may expect those legislative constituents to shine again to-day, the committees having announced business on hand.

The Senators have begun skirmishing, Messrs. Piñero and Alsina leading on the trailleurs. The vote of censure on the Executive, touching the exposed state of the Cordoban frontiers, will hardly pass ; but it would be well to call the War Minister before the house on the matter. Government solicits a Provincial cocked hat for old Sr. Blas Pico ; the hat is before Committee, but really there is already a plethora of Generals among our militaires. There is also a bill before committee to pay full pension to the veterans of Independence ; this seems just, nevertheless it will be an additional charge on our reduced exchequer. The arrangements of the English, French, and Italian claims have been submitted for ratification ; also that of the proposed visit Brazil in upsetting the tyrant Rosas. D. Marcos Paz proposes to give a rise to the porters of Congress, and appoint a Mayordomo, involving an additional expense of 1200 patacons per annum.

The President's Friday evening receptions have not yet been resumed.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

All the tailors in town are unusually busy, and the May festivals will be extraordinarily brilliant, if it do not rain. The platforms and fireworks are being constructed in the Plaza The Museum and Cathedral will be illuminated by gas-jets. It is said the Municipality cedulas this time will be more respectable than last year ; at least one per cent. of the lottery will be prizes.

There will be no inauguration of the Western Railway to Villa Luxan, but the prolonged line will be open to public traffic on and after Monday, 23rd inst. It is not clear that Monday will be a holiday, nor can we say about Thursday. The packet edition will appear in any case before departure of the Mercury (Friday, 27th.)

Mr. McGovern is going ahead with the Boca earth-works. He has the terraplene finished from the yellow house under Lezama's quinta to the Barracas de Peña. Owing to the great scarcity of English vessels at home, Mr. Wheelwright writes that he finds difficulty in shipping the rolling stock for the Boca road.

We have to return our sincere thanks to an Irish gentleman, Mr. M. Parker, one of the passengers per "Kepler," for two bags of New Orleans cotton seed, which he has generously presented us with, in acknowledgement of our efforts on behalf of cotton planting. Parties wanting seed will please apply at our office.

The 'Tribuna' has at last joined with us in asking the abolition of the lottery. We hope that the government will consider the matter. Labour is very scarce at present owing to the number of hands employed on our railways, yet there are over five hundred strong able-bodied men going about without having out a living by selling lottery tickets. This is a most immoral system of creating a revenue for the municipality, and should at once be abolished.

The printing for Congress has created a regular fuss amongst the print-ers. The following is the way the matter was settled :—To Messrs. Bernheim & Bonco the printing of the orders of the day ; to Messrs. Varela and Casellach, the 'Diario de Sesiones,' to the 'Nacional, the daily newspaper reports.

We hope the Congressmen will, now that this contract is satisfactorily connected with England, think it advisable to pay us for translating and publishing the proceedings of Congress in English.

The news from the camp is very good. The flocks are now all lambing very fast, grass is high, water is plenty, and sheep farmers are in good spirits.

The new luggage van of Mr. Rumbel left town yesterday for Chascomus. It is such a great improvement on the old bullock cars that it caused great surprise as it passed through calle Buen Orden. We wish Mr. R. every success in his new enterprize.

We are happy to assure our readers that a sound, practical emigration company is talked of. We want something of the kind badly, and Messrs. Bell and Mitre will lend his influence towards organising the society.

As there are numerous young men at present in the city anxious to embrace the sheep-farming business, we advise them to see Messrs Aguirre and Maury, who offer, for a moderate sum, of one thousand sheep, house, corral, and horses, rations, two hundred and fifty dollars per month, and two dollars per head increase in the flock at the end of each year. We consider these are very fair terms, and hope to see many unemployed countrymen accept them.

There is at present for sale a large tract of land, extending from Dolores to the coast, only 21 leagues in extent : it is all private property. We believe that the proprietors would sell at very reasonable prices, that is to say, 200,000 dollars per league. Our object in mentioning the matter, is to see if we can get fifty frishmen who will club together and buy the territory. If we meet with any support in the matter, we shall open a list in our office. Fifty, or even twenty, of our camp subscribers, could soon easily purchase this property, which in a very few years will be worth ten times the money. We request our readers in the country to think the matter over. There are several estancias on the property in question ; the land is all manured and irrigation ; the title is the most unquestionable in the country, and approved of by Government. Come on, friends, and let us form a land company, and make a dull altogether, and the 91 leagues of land, the very finest in the province, will be ours.

The people in Chivilcoy are about to erect a statue to Garibaldi. We opine it would be far better for them to expend their dollars in making roads and getting out a few traction engines, to keep their maize and wheat from rotting at the chacras for the want of proper conveyance to market.

CAUTION.

We request to say that it is our duty to advise our readers of the existence of a gang of English and German burglars in this city. The fellows who were caught in Mr. Hargreave's store last week are some of the gang who robbed Mr. Visser's safe some months ago. It is the duty of the Chief of Police to give every publication to the statement of the prisoners, in order that we may all be on our guard. One of the fellows in prison says his name is Smith, and that he is a machinist by trade.

(Colleagues please copy).

MAGAZINES FOR MAY.

There was a time when Buenos Ayres boasted not a single monthly publication, but within the last year half a dozen have sprung up. We will review them seriatim.

The River Plate Magazine contains some very interesting papers. The 'Dungeons of Paraguay' is a horrible recital of the sufferings of 20 Argentine prisoners in the late glorious Legislature of Francia : it affords us a contrast with the present paternal and prosperous rule of President Lopez, for which we have to congratulate the inhabitants of that country. Mr. Charles Murray writes on the water supply of the city, showing that wells and tanks are in every wholesome, and that the river water when taken from proper quarters is perfectly pure and healthy. Thomas Consul Hutchinson's paper on the Convent of San Lorenzo will be read with interest. Mr. Lewis contributes a history of the National Library, wherein we see that the first subscribers were all Englishmen, a fact not generally known. Mr. Mulhall has a curious History treats of the conquest of Corrientes, and first Governors of Tucuman. We have the first canto of Mr. Gutierrez's epic on the discovery of but very imperfect versification. Mr. Duffield's letters on the introduction of Alpaca into the States are valuable. Dr. Burmeister favors the public with a scientific review of the Public Museum. Finally, Sr. Estrada gives a sketch of Guarany, the Indian deities of Paraguayan mythology, but the style of translation is even more obscure than the subject treated of. On the whole, this number is a decided failure : it is a pity the proofs have not been read more carefully.

The Revista de Buenos Ayres opens with a graphic account of the capture of the Esmeralda, Spanish frigate, by the Chilian patriots under the command of the heroic Irishman, Colonel O'Brien, who fell like Nelson, in the hour of victory. Sr. Carranza is the author of a paper on Buenos Ayres naval annals before the time of Admiral Brown. The Historical Records front of Sap Luis in the beginning of this century, by Don Damian Hudson. South American Sketches, by Mr. Vicuña, are read most interesting. Mme. Gorrill contributes a critiqtie on female coquetry—we should like to see her try her hand on male coquettes. Abraham's Bosom, a novelette by M. Palma. Dr. Quesada's reminiscences of Corrientes are picturesquely drawn. Dr. Viola's notes on Tucuman deserve to be studied by all who have at heart the trade and condition of the interior. Sr. Cancello's paper on the Border, and Dr. Trias' Botanyn's mineral investigations are very apropos. This being the 12th No. of the Revista we have to congratulate the talented editors on the conclusion of their first year. Their magazine has not only afforded us many a pleasant hour, but diffused a varied fund of information respecting these countries. The Revista created a new and most useful branch of literature in Buenos Ayres, for which we must all feel sincerely grateful.

The fortnightly publication, Medico-Quirurgica, No. 1, just, contains many interesting data. We find that nearly two-thirds of the patients in the native hospitals are from foreigners; and here we feel bound to express the gratitude of many of our poor countrymen who were treated with much tender care, gratuitously, in the institutions. The inmates of the Lunatic Asylum are evenly divided between natives and foreigners. The rest of the serial is made up of medical investigations uninteresting to all but the faculty.

M. Pelliere's Album has been hailed with great well-deserved applause, and we are happy to find a large proportion of his subscribers among our countrymen. His pictures are tableaux-de-genre of South American life, that is 'Asado' he gives us truthful a delineation of gaucho habits that we fancy the group actually before us. The 'pasa' of the Gaucho and the 'asador' is only equalled by him, 'Sebando Mate,' and the horse tied under the 'ombu' is a graceful relief to the foreground. The 'Fonda' is Church' shows a fine grade phase of Argentine life, and is most happily executed by the painter; but the grave scene of the temple has a feeling of restraint, less elaborate though no less true than the former sketch. We do not hesitate to say that a year's collection of these engravings will be one of the most unique productions of art.

To the above local publications, we may add an American one, with which we have been favoured by the agent, Mr. Briol, 196 Calle Reconquista, Godey's Lady's Book. We have just received March number of this interesting and amusing magazine, and however hackneyed the phrase may be, we cannot help saying, 'that no house, where there are women and children, should be without it.' It has, as usual, huge plates of the fashions, and a very pretty engraving, besides some samples of embroidery. The letterpress of it is very fair, and the price extravagantly cheap.

PRISON REFORM.

We are happy to say that we noticed in the 'Tribuna' of Wednesday some few remarks upon the lamentable state of our prisons, and we sincerely join with our colleague in asking for reform. The state of the 'carcel' in Buenos Ayres is such that every few years an irruption breaks out and either the sentries are shot down and the prisoners escape, or vice versa, the ringleaders are killed and the rest put in irons.

It is time, however, that some measures be taken to remodel our prison system. If we are to believe report, the place is at present full of cut throats and assassins, and the judges will not sentence these ruffians to be executed, meanwhile the people have to pay for their support, and these felons live on the fat of the land.

Our colleague, the 'Tribuna,' however, is wrong. What we want, instead of prison improvement, is judicial reform. No man, of course, is at liberty to call the judges of the land a set of ruffians, but at least we can say that they are so slow in their decisions that the public welfare is endangered.

We thank our colleague, the 'Tribuna,' for taking the matter up, and would suggest that every month a general jail delivery should take place, the same as at home. Every prisoner should be brought forward, placed on his trial and either acquitted or condemned.

As a general rule the less leniency displayed towards prisoners charged with petty offences, the better shall all convict sentenced to imprisonment should be at once sent out of the city to the land of the saints and made to sow rice and tobacco.

We hope the 'Tribuna' will take this matter up and help us. We want thoroughly judicial reform and a convict establishment. If the 'Tribuna' and 'Nacion Argentina' will support us we hope yet to see all the ruffians of Buenos Ayres engaged at the port of the Guazu in augmenting the exports of Buenos Ayres, instead of spending their time playing cards in the 'carcel' of this city.

STATE OF THE PAPER MONEY

As it is to be supposed that some at least of our readers take an interest in the paper money question, we give the following official account of the state of our papier maché :

Paper money emitted according to the law of 1859 and 1861 ...	$160,000,000
Burned down to 9th September 1863 ...	54,790,000
	$105,210,000
Deduct the amount burnt this month ...	4,000,000
	$101,210,000

There is therefore altogether in circulation about $36 millions of paper money, which the sooner burnt the better for the country at large.

PARANA.

We have received our files of "El Litoral," and can find nothing in them of any interest. Things, in that part of the world, are in a very ditch-watery state ; in fact so dull, that the newspapers, departing from the general rule of allowing a man's bones to rest quietly for 25 years with his fathers before publicly criticising his character, have actually to write ex-Governor Urquiza's deeds and misdeeds. This is scarcely fair—it is too bad to dissect and scarnify a living subject. The 'Litoral' rejoices at the resignation of office of Don Domingo Comas, who was lately Gefe Politico of that region. This is the party, our readers will remember, who were serenaded in such a magnificent style by "oi polloi" on the late election of Governor, and who stood unlimited drinks to the crowd. His late Secretary, Don Manuel Fontes, is talked of as succeeding him.

The same authority says that a new Circus Company appeared on the scene with his oratory, in the person of the new Governor, Don Jose Maria Domingues; but then Don Evaristo Carreiga is a man of genius that there is no knowing when he is talking seriously. However, be that as it may, Carreiga says that Domingues has been taking lessons in snubbing from the dilatorious bottle holder, Palerstson, and on being asked in the Chambers why the Government employees were not paid their salaries—we beg pardon—revenues, he answered that "the Ministers of the Treasury were busy counting the cash of the people, and as soon as that agreeable occupation, it was solely owing to the circumstance of there being no money in the chest."

The old nursery rhyme says that when the Queen counts her money she fortifies her constitution by eating bread and honey. We suppose that the Paraana Ministers of Finance, instead of doing like hodmen when counting bricks and calling out "ten and tally," "twenty and tally," are content with a little "matecito." This operation naturally takes up some little time, and Governor Domingues treated the impertinent curiosity of some of the employés very properly, namely with contempt. What right have such fellows to ask for salary? How dare they call their chance of "prigging," and if they did not take advantage of it, it was their own fault.

THE MURDER OF SOR AMIRON.

We have been favored with some particulars of the horrible crime recently perpetrated in that part of our suburbs called Hueco de Cabecitas.

It seems the unhappy victim, was eating his dinner at 4 o'clock when two brothers named Yturriaga, from the Lomas de San Isidro, came in. One of the ruffians was on intimate with Amiron, and the other suddenly coming behind the latter stabbed him in the back, unawares The wound was so terrible that the knife penetrated through the victim's body, and death was instantaneous. The murderer of course escaped, but the brother who began the dispute has been arrested.

INDIANS

On the 1st inst., the Indians again 'came down like wolves on the fold' in To, in the province of Cordoba. Comandante Nicolas Aminchostegui, writes as follows :—

"The Indians which have advanced to Loncinos, belong to the tribe of 'Ayuna Negra' (Black Wasps), and number about two hundred strong. The Cacique had called a great meeting of Indians to invade the province of Santiago, and they were only awaiting the result of this 'malon,' thus which nothing could be more favourable for them. They again made a dash on the 9th inst., and penetrated as far as Rio 4°, and entered the pueato of Sr. Eloy Avila, situated about 4 leagues from this place, in the Arroyo del Sud."—Tribuna.'

Wasps, either black or white, and thistles, are not the most pleasant things in the world to have some in contact with one's 'epidermis.'

Haulage by Steam on Common Roads.

Another of those monster castings of which this locality is daily becoming more celebrated, was recently drawn by steam along the public roads from the foundry of Messrs R. & J. Harris, of Rotherham, to the works of Messrs. Bessemer in this town. Although this casting was not so heavy as the last one moved by the same means, it was sufficient still further to demonstrate the advantage of this system of haulage over the ordinary one of horses for such purposes. We understand that this casting weighed about 30 tons, whereas the previous one was 45 tons, and on a former occasion when one of those of larger dimensions was moved, it was necessary to employ no less than sixty horses. To those who have witnessed one-fourth of this number of horses tug together, it will be evident how difficult such an operation must be, while the obstruction to general traffic and damage done to the roads, although unavoidable, must be very great. These objections are greatly reduced, if not entirely removed, by the use of the steam horse, who, with its load, occupies but little more space than an ordinary waggon and four horses, and being under the most perfect control of the driver, is easily made to exert his whole strength at the time and places and in the manner required, and, what is of great importance, it may be made to stop it instantaneously. The engine owned by Messrs Harris left their foundry with the load on a truck, and proceeded about a mile, when, from the roads being soft, the wheels of the truck cut through the surface, causing some delay, and it was thought that it was unable to exert the use of the smaller engine in addition, which they had also used on the last occasion and they then proceeded and arrived without let or hindrance at the foot of Spital-hill. Since the similar operation in November, which we reported at the time, an alteration has been made in the engine, which greatly facilitated the means of turning the sharpest angles, with its full power, in any directions; and the advantage thus gained is not here very evident, as it turned with the greatest ease out of the Rotherham road, round on to Spital-hill, with the load attached. At this point it was not being dark) the small engine was detached, and the larger one alone drew the load up the hill to the entrance of Mr. Bessemer's works, where it was found that the gateway was too narrow for the engine to enter. It was therefore detached, and the smaller one placed in its place, when, with care and skill and management, it entered the gateway which was only wide enough to admit the casting, and it was left safely on the truck in the yard.

To those of our readers, and there must be many, to whom this new system of haulage is interesting, and who have not themselves witnessed it in operation it may be necessary to state that the great advantage claimed for it arises solely from the adoption of the "Endless Railway" invented by the late James Boydell, formerly known as a large ironmaster in Staffordshire. In its name imports, the wheels of the engine lay their own rails to run on and the broad shoe, or sleeper, which bears them, coming between the wheels and the ground takes off all friction from the surface of the road and gives a hold or bite to the driving wheels of the engine, enabling it thus to exert its greatest steam power without loss from slipping, an object hitherto unattained and unattainable by any engine with the wheels of which come in direct contact with the ground. A careful examination of this "Endless Railway" in operation during the recent visit of the Sheffield neighborhood must have satisfied every one of the advantages of this system, as the raising of such sleeper successively from the ground, even where at the softest, showed a defined print of its shape, but with a total absence of all abrasion or friction on the surface of the road. It was also evident that none of the stoppages or obstructions on these several journeys had any dependence to the engine, but solely to the load breaking through the crust of the road, although on one occasion the whole four wheels of the truck were 18 inches broad.

We understand that a truck is now being constructed to which the "Endless Railway" will partially be applied which, while it will enable the same steam power to draw heavier weights with greater ease, will keep the due distribution of weight over a largely extended surface, and the comparative absence of friction, greatly lessen the damage done to the roads, which the exercise of such ponderous loads on any ordinary wheels must always occasion, and which, although it is unavoidable, is to say the least, very objectionable.

SIR THOMAS MORE.

To the Editor of the "Standard."

Sir,

On accidentally looking over last Monday's Telegraph, my attention was called to the controversy between Sr. Mancilla, on the one hand, and Young Buenos Ayres, the "Progres" and the school of Rationalism on the other. Now without entering into the merits of the the pros and cons of either party, I was somewhat surprised at finding Sir Thomas More styled a hypocrite by the "Progres" corcspondent, which the only deduction probably from this is that the writer is utterly unacquainted with the life of More: on the contrary if this great man is admired for one quality more than another, it is for his justice and candour. Though of a good family, he rose from the humble position of a page to hold the highest office in the kingdom, but he never courted office, and it was with the greatest difficulty that a hypocritical king acquired his services. His independent character often confounded his master, for in More the king found a man proof against flattery, or seduction. When the king's marriage agitated all Europe, More, though often solicited to give his opinion on the question, absolutely refused, and rather than give his assistance to their arbitrary measures retired from office. But nothing could force from him, or his innocence and conscientious principles than his refusal to abjure the Ancient Faith.

Rather than commit an act which his conscience forbade, he suffered the penalty of death, and this, with a serenity and equanimity of mind, that surely a hypocrite never could assume. This however is not meant as a defence of More; did the writer of the 'Progres' produce any other reasons for his assertion, then we would see what we could do. His merits as a literary man are universally acknowledged, and so great was Erasmus' admiration and love for him, the greatest man of his age, that when he heard of More's death he most pathetically exclaimed. "In moro mihi videor eluctus.

The Diffusely. The Progres says that Mr. Thorton finding his endeavors to arrange matters between this Republic and Uruguay unsuccessful; has withdrawn his note to this Government in which he offered to act as mediator.

Shameful attack. Three nights ago a vigilante gave a poor fellow a frightful cut on the head with his sabre.—'Nacion Argentina.' [These ruffians should be made to understand that elections do not last the whole year round. It is really the height of folly to entrust those savages with arms: they would do more without than them as they could sleep every bit as soundly on their posts without a sabre.]

Total sales of the day, 67,500.

There was very little business done on the Bolsa to-day: the ounce brokers carried on an average 18 dols. per each.

The paper sale on 'Change to-day was the sale of Urquiza's hides, 10,000 at the very high figure 43 1/2 rls. It is right pleasing to see such prices, and that the sale is contradicted, as no person can discover the broker or the buyer.

Patacons were very weak to-day, and would have fallen more had it not been for a few bulls whose interest it is to sustain the market.

The rows per packet has a rather beneficial effect on our produce market; good weeks are no longer to be had even at the rates offered, but second class weeks abound in the deposits, also—they are full of 'cavetilla,' but still easily sold from 80 to 90 per cent.

House property is depreciating in Buenos Ayres, notwithstanding that the population is increasing and the city improving. We attribute this to the scandalous neglect of the municipality to pave the streets. Two very fine houses in Calle Arte were sold by auction yesterday to an English merchant at about half what they would have fetched some few years ago.

Every one is beginning to complain of the scarcity of paper money. This is a good sign, and, we suppose, must be caused by the large amount required for the wages of workmen on the Southern Railway, which must accord to close on a million and a quarter dols. per month. This is the true test which our disreputable currency is now experiencing, and which in busy times is calculated to create a monetary crisis Our money market cannot be patched up much longer. We want a sole, good currency, but what we want still more, is a man with the brains to effect it.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA & C°

No. 103 calle de Cangallo.

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that I have no very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the examples of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No. 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days, and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a.m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

p. p. Mauá & Co.,
WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS.

1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.

2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p%] per annum which is liquidated every six months.

3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited;

4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

1st. On one's own life, in shares of 86 silver and upwards. These subscriptions liquidated at any time, at the subscriber's time and option.

2nd. Without loss of capital by death of the insurer. Subscribers will be entitled to compound interest on their subscriptions and the proportional interest forfeited by the death of other shareholders in their Class, where capital, however, is returned.

3rd. With loss of capital, by death of the insurer. All shareholders of this class shall gain compound interest on their subscriptions, besides a proportionat part of the capital and interest of all who die in their Class.

All these subscriptions may be paid weekly, monthly, quarterly, half yearly, or yearly.

The capital of the Company shall be invested only in landed property (fincas), and with the greatest security.

The Board of Inspection, composed of subscribers, shall have charge of all the operations of the Company.

Subscriptions in Paper Money.

The Directors, wishing to enlarge the operations of the Society, have acceded to the request of many people in this city, and determined to issue shares payable in Paper Money of Buenos Ayres, under the following conditions:—

Article 63—From the 1st of April, 1864, shares shall be issued to such persons as may wish to pay in Paper Money of Buenos Ayres, and in accordance with Article 17 chapter 3 of the Statutes of the Society, the lowest sum receivable being $200 annually, payable in one sum, or in instalments, subject to the following rules:

1st—For Paper Money Subscribers sections will be opened and kept separate from Silver Money Subscribers.

2nd—The liquidation of the sums belonging to the sections of Paper Money Subscribers will be administered according to Article 21 of the Statutes, and for account of those particular sections.

By these means the Directory hopes to gain its object, which is to enable the poorer classes to enjoy all the advantages of the Society.

For further particulars, apply at the Co's Office, No. 87 Calle S. Martin (altos), where prospectuses and circulars may be had.
